As of Elite Dangerous: Beyond Chapter Four (3.3), there are 38 playable ships and 6 playable fighters, each built by one of several manufacturers with their own unique styles. Initially, there was a planned total of 30 playable ships with multiple variants in addition to some non-playable ships. All commanders begin the game with a Sidewinder Mk1. The player may upgrade components or purchase an entirely new ship based upon their needs and available funds.

You jump out of supercruise flight to investigate, only to come face to face with a huge alien ship that locks your systems. It's impossibly big, and the more you look at it, you see that it's not being masked by space - space is being masked by it. That's one of the more terrifying experiences out there in Elite Dangerous, Frontier's space sim that originally launched back in 2014.
